Seniors are vital members of our community. This Aging Services Directory, developed through our Office for the Aging, provides seniors as well as service providers a wealth of useful and valuable information about available programs and services.

It is designed to enhance access to aging services provided by Dutchess County Government agencies, not-for-profit agencies and area businesses. We hope you find it to be a useful tool!

Marcus J. Molinaro
Dutchess County Executive

Maintaining the dignity and independence of senior citizens is the primary goal of the Office for the Aging. The Aging Services Directory is a tool that outlines programs and services vital to the accomplishment of this goal.

We hope this handbook will improve the quality of life for senior citizens and those who care for them.

Todd N. Tancredi, Director
Office for the Aging

The Office for the Aging (OFA) offers services designed to maintain the quality of life of those age 60 and over. Continuing Care at OFA serves people of all ages in need of Long Term Care Services. The Office for the Aging provides:

- Direct community-based services to senior citizens.
- A point of entry into the service delivery system for those eligible for all types of long-term care.
- A source of referral to other programs, information and services available in the general community.

This handbook is organized following the continuum of care model, a tool used by health care professionals to ensure that the full range of needs required by those 60 years of age and over are met. The handbook is organized starting with community-based services: the nutrition, recreational, and educational opportunities that support seniors in the maintainence of independent living. The handbook then proceeds to the next level of care: sources of in-home care services and programs that support those who wish to avoid institutional placement. The last pages of the booklet contain information about institutional arrangements for those seniors who need a higher level of care.

The Office for the Aging serves all Dutchess County residents 60 years of age and older, their caregivers, and others in the Long Term Care System. Residents may access the Office for the Aging at:
